

Clinical Research Director

Join an international drug and device development consultancy and contribute with strategic advice and operational support to clients based in Europe, the US and Asia.

At KLIFO, you'll be part of a highly specialised team of experts who value workplace flexibility and collaborate to help our life-science clients across different therapeutic areas realise their unique projects.

Become part of an experienced and dedicated team

You will be part of a dynamic and well collaborating leadership team in an expansive and exciting company where we are working within different therapeutic areas for a heterogeneous client pool (pharmaceutical companies/biotech/investigators/academia). You will work in an interactive, flexible and trustful environment, where your competences and experience are highly appreciated along with the opportunity to develop even further among highly specialised colleagues.

In the role as Clinical Research Director, you'll contribute by:

- Providing strong leadership of COS team and managing staff
- Maintain and develop a positive client relationship with COS clients
- Provide input to contracts and client proposals in collaboration with proposal managers
- Contact to client, develop solutions, ensure delivery on contracts and generate re-sale to clients in co-operation with other business units
- Ensure and demonstrate development of COS employees
- Be self-driven in finding and improving organizational and procedural gaps and weaknesses
- Take part in leading the development of KLIFO's services and expanding business in current and new regions
